OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY ENVIRONMENTAL EVALUATIONS

Our occupational therapy team provides in-home evaluations to set up your home environment to optimize independence in activities of daily living. An occupational therapist will come to your home and assess your child as well as the natural environment where the activities occur. The occupational therapist will work with your child and your family to provide suggestions to modify the environment to enhance performance as well as adaptations to the task to increase independence. Ongoing in-home occupational therapy services are available to increase independence in activities of daily living.

Environmental Evaluation: 2-hour in-home evaluation
